Pacification Program Has Slipped

By RICHARD PYLE
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — For the first time since the enemy Tet offensive of 1968, Saigon's control of the South Vietnamese countryside has slipped and U.S. experts attribute this largely to efforts to get President Nguyen Van Thieu re-elected.

Statistics released Thursday show a nationwide three-tenths of one per cent reduction in government control of the population, with a corresponding increase of one-tenth of one per cent in persons living in contested areas and one-tenth of a per cent in persons living in hamlets under Viet Cong control. The other tenth of a per cent was not evaluated.

While some sources discounted the slippage as not great enough to be significant, a senior official of the U.S. pacification advisory program termed it "disturbing" because it reversed the government's steady upward trend of the last three years.

At the same time, American analysts said the preoccupation of South Vietnamese officials with getting Thieu re-elected Oct. 3 had pushed aside most other priorities and plunged the pacification effort into a three-month state of "virtual paralysis." Thieu is unopposed in the election, but he has said he will step down if he gets less than 50 per cent of the vote.

While enemy political activity is considered to be a factor in the deterioration, the election is said by many Americans in the U.S. pacification advisory unit to be much more important.

"Nobody at the province level or below seems to give a damn about anything except making sure Thieu makes a good showing," said one U.S. expert.

"They are putting all their efforts into that. Their jobs depend on it. Meanwhile, pacification is going to hell."

Another American said the security situation had deteriorated to the point where, in his view, nothing was moving forward in South Vietnam "except the Viet Cong."

Negro Lawyer Shot to Death at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Edward V. Trimble, 51, a prominent Little Rock Negro lawyer, was shot to death Wednesday night at his home.

Police said Trimble was shot once in the chest with a small-caliber weapon.

Lt. Walter Simpson of the Little Rock police said that Trimble was still alive when officers arrived at the scene of the shooting, but he would not say who shot him. An investigation was continuing.

Trimble was a prominent defender of blacks accused in criminal cases. He was the attorney for a number of black inmates on death row at the state penitentiary.

One of his most publicized cases was that of Luther Bailey, a Negro accused of raping a white woman in Little Rock in 1956. Bailey spent more than 10 years on death row — longer than any other person. Bailey died in prison of natural causes in 1967.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., said Wednesday that the Department of Agriculture would name Harlan Holliman of Wynne, Ark., as the southeast area director of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Topless Hearing Postponed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A hearing on a charge of indecent exposure filed against two topless dancers in Little Rock was postponed Wednesday until Oct. 6.

The two women, Lorie P. Robinson, 31, and Shirley E. Morris, 28, had been ordered to appear in Municipal Court Wednesday.

They were charged after dancing topless at the Gaslite Club here.

Medina Wins Queen of Nevada Fair Acquittal, Not Bitter

By KATHRYN JOHNSON

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — Capt. Ernest L. Medina, acquitted of My Lai massacre charges, says he has no bitterness toward the Army but still plans to leave it.

The 35-year-old career officer who commanded a U.S. company which swept through My Lai on March 16, 1968, was acquitted Wednesday of murder, involuntary manslaughter and assault after a court-martial jury of five Vietnam veterans deliberated an hour.

Medina, his face pale, snapped a smart salute to Col. William D. Proctor, the jury president.

Nixon Will Explain His Policies

DETROIT (AP) — President Nixon will use an unusual format tonight when he explains his new economic policies to the Economic Club of Detroit. He'll field selected questions from the audience.

Instead of making an address, Nixon decided on a question-and-answer session, something that in the past generally has been reserved for the news media.

Officials of the AFL-CIO said up to 10,000 pickets are expected to parade outside Cobo Hall even though a labor representative will be inside helping decide which questions will be submitted to Nixon.

The mass demonstration was planned by the AFL-CIO to show labor's displeasure with the wage-price freeze, part of Nixon's new economics program.

Texarkana Theater Man Fined

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Pat Bullard, 37, manager of the Capri theater in Texarkana, was found guilty Wednesday by a Circuit Court jury on a charge of knowingly showing obscene movies.

The jury recommended a $2,000 fine and a suspended 18-month prison term. Maximum sentence on the charge was a $2,000 fine and five years in prison. Formal sentencing was set for 1:30 p.m. today.

The jury deliberated more than three hours before returning the verdict.

In another development, Warren St. Clair of Joplin, Mo., president of Mini Arts Theaters, Inc., which owns the Capri, was arrested while sitting in the courtroom Wednesday. He was charged with being an accessory to showing an obscene film. St. Clair was called Tuesday to testify for the defense. St. Clair was released Wednesday afternoon on a $5,000 bail.

Groundbreaking at Eureka

EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Groundbreaking ceremonies will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday for the Elna M. Smith Foundation's reproduction of the Holy Land.

Elna M. Smith, after whom the foundation is named, will turn the first shovel of dirt across the road from the entrance to the Great Passion Play.

The project will be located near Magnetic Mountain and Mount Oberammergau in Eureka Springs.

2-China Plan Going Before UN Panel

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States has met success and failure in the opening round of its campaign to prevent the expulsion of Nationalist China from the United Nations.

The victory came in getting its two-Chinas proposal recommended Wednesday for the General Assembly agenda, and rounding up a good number of cosponsors for its two resolutions, including Japan.

The first resolution, which calls for the seating of Peking and Taiwan in the General Assembly with Peking getting China's permanent Security Council seat, had 17 cosponsors. The other, which calls for a two-thirds vote instead of a simple majority to pass any resolution to oust Taiwan, had 19.

The defeat was in the Steer-See 2-China Plan

13 Combat Deaths in Past Week

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 13 American servicemen were killed in action in Vietnam last week, marking the 10th consecutive week that combat deaths fell below 20.

The figure was one less than U.S. deaths two weeks ago and reflected the continuing American disengagement and a relative lull in ground fighting.

The command also reported 111 U.S. troops were wounded in action last week, more than double the 49 listed as wounded the previous week. Many of these were attributed to booby traps.

The command's weekly casualty summary also showed 12 U.S. deaths from accidents and illness last week, the same number of deaths in the non-hostile category for the previous week.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 397 government troops were killed and 755 were wounded last week, an increase over the 264 killed and 508 wounded of two weeks ago.

The allied commands reported, 1,527 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops were killed last week. This compared with 1,085 enemy troops reported killed by the allies the week before.

Henderson Jury Has a Few Days Off

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — The jurors trying Col. Oran K. Henderson on charges of attempting to cover up the massacre of civilians at My Lai have the rest of the week off, but Henderson will be in court today for a hearing about a wayward document.

The special hearing is to determine the adequacy of the government's search for a report about My Lai made by Lt. Col. Frank A. Barker soon after an infantry sweep through the South Vietnamese hamlet March 16, 1968.

Henderson's lawyers contend that then Maj. Gen. Samuel W. Koster, the American Division commander, ordered a formal investigation into allegations that civilians were killed at My Lai and that Henderson in turn directed Barker to conduct the probe.

Two witnesses have said they saw what may have been Barker's report, including the statements of 15 to 20 witnesses. The government concedes there was such a report but says it has not been able to find it to introduce at Henderson's trial.

The report, Henderson's lawyers say, would do much to improve one of four charges against the former brigade commander: that he failed to conduct a thorough investigation into the incident.

China Presents Puzzle But Mao's Death Will Not Cancel Peking Trip

By JOHN RODERICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials are as perplexed as anyone about the mysterious events in Red China but they tend to believe that not even the death of Mao Tse-tung would bring about the cancellation of Richard Nixon's trip to Peking.

Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai has invited Nixon to visit the Chinese capital sometime before next May. It is believed here that the invitation was the result of a carefully thought out, and undoubtedly thoroughly debated, decision by the Communist Party central committee.

It appears unlikely the new and important line of seeking a rapprochement with the United States would be altered by the passing or indisposition of any individual leader, no matter how highly placed.

If, on the other hand, the unusual developments of the past few days are due to a power struggle within the party, the question of Nixon's visit could very well be an element well-placed sources are quick to add.

The Chinese have announced that the traditional parade of half million people through Tien An Men (Gate of Heavenly Peace) Square for annual Oct. 1 national day celebrations has been called off. This, coupled with reports that all military furloughs have been cancelled and soldiers called back from home leave, has intrigued and puzzled American experts whose job it is to watch the China scene.

The fact that all civilian and military air flights also are said to have been cancelled during a three-day period last week adds another incomprehensible note to the situation.

Tax Plan Revised to Give Business Less, More to Individuals

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The tax portion of President Nixon's new economic program has won the crucial approval of the House Ways and Means Committee—but in sharply revised form that gives business less and individuals more short-range tax relief.

By rough preliminary estimates, the Democratic-controlled committee's decisions would mean about $4.9 billion less in tax breaks over a three-year span for business and about $3.4 billion more for individuals than Nixon recommended. In the long run, the business relief could increase somewhat.

There is at least a little income tax relief for all individuals in the package approved by the committee Wednesday and scheduled to be voted on by the House about Oct. 6. It would begin showing up in the returns due next April.

Much more relief proportionately would go to low-income taxpayers, those at poverty levels or close to them.

For business, the package includes an investment credit allowing 7 per cent of the cost of equipment to be charged off against taxes and special help for exporters. But the committee would take back part of the gains for business by trimming the special depreciation advantages the Treasury already had put in effect without new legislation.

The 7 per cent excise tax on automobiles and 10 per cent excise tax on light trucks also would be repealed under the bill.

Major provisions affecting individuals:

—The personal exemption for this year would be increased from $650 to $675. Instead of increasing to $700 next year, it would go to $750.

—Increased tax benefits for low income persons would begin this year and by 1972 would help some 25 million return-filers, relieving an estimated 1.9 million completely of income tax.

—Next year, a single individual would have to have $2,050 income before owing any tax, a couple $2,800, a family of four $4,300.

—The estimated poverty levels for these categories are $2,170, $2,810 and $4,290.

More Rain Forecast for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rain is expected to continue in Arkansas tonight and Friday.

A weak low pressure area that is expected to develop in eastern Texas and drift northeast along a cold front will trigger the shower activity.

A cold front entered the state from the west this morning, producing temperatures in the low to mid 50s in the northwestern third of the state. Rain fell throughout most of the night in the southern half of Arkansas.

With the cooler weather moving into the state, highs today and Friday should be mainly in the 60s.

Lows tonight should be mostly in the 50s northwest to 60s southeast.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 52, Harrison 54, Pine Bluff 62, Jonesboro 62, Memphis 64, Little Rock 60, Fort Smith 60, Texarkana 62 and El Dorado 60.

Only Token Challenge to Military Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — In sharp contrast to the past two years, the Senate's Pentagon critics have decided on a limited, almost token challenge to the $21 billion bill authorizing funds for military hardware and research.

As a result, barring a long fight over the new version of Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's amendment to set a date for total U.S. withdrawal from Indochina, the debate will be considerably shorter than those of recent years, improving prospects for early congressional adjournment in November.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who is organizing the drive to cut the bill, predicted in an interview the bill could be acted on within three weeks. It took twice as long a year ago, and eight weeks in 1969.

The new mood became evident Wednesday, the first full day of debate on the bill, when Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., agreed to a voice vote, rather than a roll-call tally, after just three hours of debate on an amendment to cut $339 million of the $370 million in the bill for the B1 advanced bomber.

"We made a head count and it showed we didn't have the votes," McGovern said. "I just don't see the point of going through a lengthy exercise."

Similarly, there are indications that two bitter unsuccessful efforts to stop the Safeguard missile defense system have taken their toll and that this year, only a limited effort will be made to slow antiballistic missile (ABM) defense deployment. Time limits will be accepted on most amendments, Proxmire said.

Those close to the military procurement debate say many senators feel another lengthy debate on the military procurement bill would be futile, noting that in the past most major efforts to trim the Pentagon budget have been beaten.

In addition, the Armed Services Committee is giving increasingly strict scrutiny to Pentagon requests, limiting some major projects and echoing the call by critics for economy in defense spending.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Chairman Joseph Swidler kept his cool Wednesday when a bomb threat was telephoned to the Public Service Commission building in the midst of a hearing on natural gas shortages.

Swidler corralled the recording stenographer and invited all parties outside to the parking lot where he resumed the hearing in balmy sunshine.

About 30 minutes later, police said their search found no bomb and Swidler led the group back indoors.

Riley Denies Rift With Bumpers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Lt. Gov. Bob Riley denied Wednesday that a rift had developed between himself and the Bumpers administration, adding that nothing but "harmony and co-operation" existed between himself and the governor's office.

Riley's remarks were in response to a newspaper article last week that indicated that Riley was miffed for being ignored when Gov. Dale Bumpers left the state to attend the National Governors Conference.

The lieutenant governor becomes the chief executive when the governor leaves the state.

"My sensibilities aren't wounded by the fact that every time he leaves the state, they (Bumpers' aides) don't rush up here to tell me and invite me to sit in the governor's chair," Riley said. "I believe in co-operation and that's the way we've been conducting the two offices."

Martin Borchert, who manages the governor's office when Bumpers leaves town, said no Bumpers aide had sought to preempt the lieutenant governor's constitutional functions when the governor is out of state.

"All the aides are trying to do in here is to keep the store open," he said. "The last thing any of us want to do is take over the responsibilities of the constitutional office of governor."

Neither Riley nor Borchert would recall the occurrence of a constitutional duty so far that Riley would have had to perform in Bumpers' absence.

The Southwest Times Record at Fort Smith quoted Riley last week as saying that he had not been contacted when Bumpers went to Puerto Rico to attend the governor's conference, making Riley the state's chief executive during the absence.

"I don't know why they don't make an announcement about it," Riley was quoted as saying. "It is simply a matter of proto-

Still Wants a Date for Withdrawal

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said today he will renew Monday his effort to have Congress set a deadline for U.S. military withdrawal from Indochina.

Mansfield said he will introduce an amendment that would declare as U.S. policy a withdrawal within six months, provided prisoners of war are released.

The Senate approved a similar amendment to the draft extension bill, calling for withdrawal within nine months. But that was stricken from the bill when House and Senate conferees negotiated a compromise draft measure.

This time, Mansfield is making the proposal as an amendment to the $21-billion military procurement bill.

The Senate's Pentagon critics, meantime, have decided on a limited challenge to the bill. Thus, barring a long fight over Mansfield's proposed amendment, debate should be considerably shorter than in previous years.

If that should be the case, prospects for a November adjournment of Congress would be improved.

Wants Support Pay Reduced

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Entertainer George Jessel has asked Superior Court for permission to reduce support payments for his 9-year-old daughter.

Jessel, 73, acknowledged paternity in a settlement made shortly after the girl's birth and agreed to $500 monthly payments to the mother, Joan Tyler, 37.

But his attorney said Wednesday that Jessel no longer works steadily, has had financial setbacks and wants the payments cut to $150 a month. Miss Tyler said Jessel has a sizable income.

A court commissioner said he would rule at a later date.

MR. AND MRS. JIMMY F. TUMEY

The marriage of Miss Sharon Beth Rogers and Jimmy Ferrell Tumeay was solemnized in the First Baptist Church at 5:30 p.m. on September 9th. The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Rogers of Hope and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Turney of San Antonio, Texas. The Rev. Gerald Trussell of the First Baptist Church performed the double wedding ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mrs.

Susan Pride was her sister's only attendant. Hugh Hall of Magnolia served the groom as best man.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party and guests were entertained with a dinner at the Heritage House.

After a wedding trip in Texas, the couple will reside in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina where the groom is stationed with the Air Force.

IS IT "FOR KEEPS" AT AGE 16?

Dear Both of You:

I'm almost 17. My boyfriend is 20 and in the Service. He'll be out in three years, and I'm more than willing to wait because I love him.

I have no urge to date other guys. It's just not there.

The problem is that my parents don't think I'm in love. They say I'm too young and haven't had enough experience and, besides, a high school girl needs to go out and have fun. (The old "wasting the best years of your life.")

Well, I've been liking guys since I was 12, and dating since I was 14. Experience? Who needs it?

Mom and Dad like my boy friend just fine, but they don't think I'm able to love yet. What's wrong with them? —IN LOVE WITHOUT MOMMY'S AND DADDY'S PERMISSION

Dear In Love:

What's wrong with them is they've been taken over by society's rules which say falling in love is "for adults only." I don't agree.

If you can love your sisters, brothers, friends, pets and especially parents—with whom you fight most during your early years—why can't you feel lasting love for a boy friend? Parents should keep in mind their youthful experiences aren't ours.

Besides, it's your decision whether or not you date and your folks should be glad you're staying home and out of "trouble." —SUE

The fair Juliet smiled sweetly as she put down the dummy. Her wonderful Romeo was playing the hand and she knew that he would bring home the slam.

Romeo wasn't that happy. He could discard a heart on the long spades and let success depend on finding East with the club king or he could go after hearts and be sure of his contract if he could locate either the king or jack of hearts.

Then Romeo found what looked like a sure-thing play. He played two rounds of trumps and was delighted to find that he had picked up the suit. He led his queen of hearts and overtook with dummy's ace. Next came two more spades to get rid of his seven of hearts.

Then he led the 10 of hearts from dummy and ruffed after East played the king. Back to dummy with the last trump for another heart lead. East ducked and Romeo shed one of his clubs. After that he played the hand out routinely, but lost the last trick to West's king of clubs.

Romeo's line of play was certain to succeed provided West did not hold both the king and jack of hearts. If West held both those cards and ducked the queen of hearts lead, Romeo was willing to pay off. But as he told the older Capulets there were no Belladonnas or Garrozzos in the Italy of that day.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP)—Some word things are turning up on Rod Sterling's "Night Gallery," this season expanded into a weekly series.

Tacked on the end of NBC's Wednesday night schedule, the hour seems to be the flip side of "Love, American Style," a number of short, unrelated pieces but with the macabre substituted for love and gruesome for comedy.

The most recent contribution opened with E. G. Marshall playing a gentle funeral home proprietor who collected corpses. Another long segment had Vincent Price play a professor training a seminar of robot students to become racists and bigots. Its message was lost in the shuffle.

There were two short black-outs. One, which telegraphed its ending early, had Imogene Coca building herself a suicide cell. The other, presumably designed for grisly humor, involved cannibalism.

Maybe the whole thing is in fun. But for some the program seemed a tasteless exercise in horror, light years away from the sort of thing Alfred Hitchcock produced with sly grace.

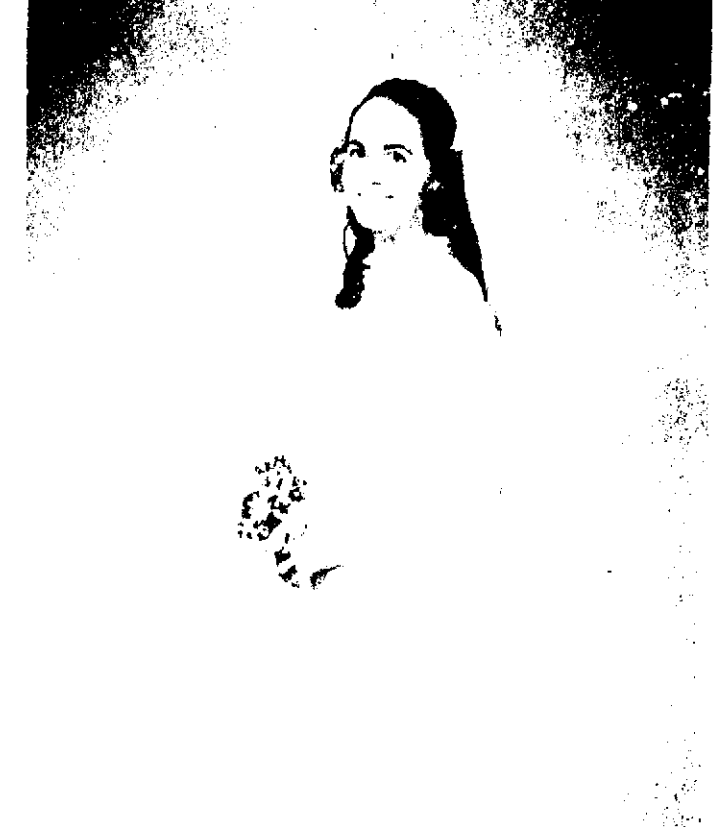

Earlier, also on NBC, Marshall Sam McCloud reappeared—still a determined, match-chewing country lawman outwitting the big city criminals and even the city police department to which he is temporarily assigned.

Dennis Weaver's show, now 90 minutes long, is one of the three rotating segments "Mystery Movie." The gimmick of McCloud is the innocent deceptive way the New Mexico marshal questions the suspects. However, the awkward dialogue given to Weaver would have made even a juvenile delinquent suspect what he was up to.

The first of the season's McCloud shows had the hero exposing a complicated scheme involving an astrologer, his wealthy wife, a kidnaper and a time bomb. Sebastian Cabot played the villain, but it was hard to believe in him after all those seasons when he was the lovable gentlemen's gentleman of "Family Affair."

Carol Burnett and her company of comedians have moved to an earlier time period on CBS but are keeping the same format.

MRS. EDWARD EARL WHITE

The wedding vows of Barbara Anne Fuller and Edward Earl White were spoken in the Springhill United Methodist Church at 8 p.m. on Friday, September 3. Rings were exchanged before the altar, flanked by stands of blue and white spider chrysanthemums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of her own creation, simply fashioned of white crepe and satin overlaid with lace. It featured full lace sleeves and an empire waist banded with a satin ribbon falling to the floor. Her short illusion veil was fastened with a lace ruffled bandeau. She carried a colonial bouquet of blue daisies.

Miss Peggy Fuller, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her long-sleeved gown was of powder blue crepe over satin lace. Her bouquet was of white daisies.

Eddie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. "Bud" White also of Hope. The couple left for a short wedding trip to Hot Springs immediately after the ceremony and now reside at 917 West 6 in Hope.

Hope Star SPORTS

Fairview to Be Tough as Usual

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Tomorrow night the Hope Bobcats face possibly their toughest game of the season when they host the Fairview Cardinals in an important 7AA Conference grid battle.

This game is always a very hard hitting one with a lot riding on the game, such as staying in the race for the conference championship.

Fairview has lost all three of their games, being shutout by Camden, 28-0, failing to Watson Chapel, 14-8, and dropping one to Ashdown last week, 30-14. But then those were other games and it doesn't count for Friday night.

Leading the offensive attack will be senior quarterback Gary Wilson with two fine runners behind him in Ray Porchia and Terry Crampton. Jackie Carter, a senior 160 pounder, will start at slobber for the Cards.

Center Benny Vestel, a 185 pound senior will anchor the line with Jim Parwell and Cleothus Ferguson at the guards. Jamie Spicer and Greg Sael hold down both tackle spots, both weighing 185 and 173 respectively.

Wilson's main receivers will be ends John Elliot and Paul Simpson. Elliot is a 180 pound senior and Simpson is a senior, 165 pounder with fairly good hands and blocking ability.

Defensively, the Cardinals are led by Allen Morris at noseman and Vestel and Ferguson at the linebacking slots. The tackles will be David Wheelington and Mike McGee, both seniors and weighing around 200 pounds.

At anchor end will be William Melton, a 165 pound junior, with the blood end being Kenny Rains, a senior 190 pounder with quickness. Monster will probably be Richard Walker, a 170 pound senior.

Fairview's secondary will consist of Jackie Carter, Paul Simpson, and Tony Tucker. All three are seniors and weigh between 160 and 170 each.

Yesterday the Cats worked out in the gym due to the bad weather and they seemingly had a good practice, although it was slowed down some on the speed.

Tonight the Bobkittens host Arkadelphia at 7:30 p.m. in a game that should be full of excitement. Hope has yet to allow a touchdown and with a good defense it will be hard for the Beavers to score, while the offense should be able to score enough points for a Bobkitten victory.

Friday night, the Ladies Junior Auxiliary will hold their spaghetti supper prior to the Hope-Fairview game from five to seven o'clock. Adult tickets are $1.50 and children are $.75 with the money going to the Benefit Scholarship Fund.

Rochester Wins Junior World Series

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The Rochester Red Wings of the International League won the Junior World Series Wednesday night with a 9-6 victory over the Denver Bears.

Fred Beene won his second game of the seven-game series and drove in the first of three runs the Red Wings scored on the American Association team in the sixth inning. He was relieved after giving up one run to Denver in the eighth.

Rochester had 16 hits off four Denver pitchers and rallied from deficits of 4-2 and 5-3 to win the game and, with it, the best-of-7 AAA series.

Protection for Joe Red Flag to Tulsa

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Joe Ferguson's pass protection is a red flag to Tulsa Coach Claude Gibson.

Arkansas' offensive line has been dubbed the "Clean Machine" because Ferguson, the Razorbacks' outstanding junior quarterback, has remained untouched in dropback passing attempts against California and Oklahoma State.

"Somehow we've got to get to that guy early and shake him up," Gibson said in a telephone interview. "If he's given time to throw, he'll kill you. We've got to get to him if I have to go out there and blitz him myself. We've got to, even at the risk of him throwing the bomb."

Tulsa meets the seventh-ranked Razorbacks Saturday at Fayetteville.

Ferguson completed 64.3 percent of his passes for 456 yards in his first two games.

"Ferguson sets up so quickly and has a great release," said Gibson, a defensive halfback with San Diego and Oakland of the old American Football League. "He looks like Joe Namath getting rid of the ball and he's a great deep thrower. He could play in pro football right now because he can throw deep."

"When I started watching the films of the California and Oklahoma State games, I thought I was looking at Unitas or Namath," Gibson said. "I wish it was Namath. He's got bad knees and he likes robots. Ferguson doesn't have bad knees and he's dedicated to football."

Gibson was asked about charges by OSU noseman Barry Price that Arkansas' offensive line resorted to holding to keep the Cowboys from getting to Ferguson.

"They've done a great job of protecting him," Gibson said. "It got so bad with the New York Jets that the owners in pro football brought it up at a meeting. They had vowed to protect Joe Namath. It's like pitching a no-hitter. You're going to do anything to make that play to get to the ball. Arkansas has a big image in that 'clean machine.'"

Gibson, who took over the Tulsa job in the summer of 1970, had been associated with winners at North Carolina State, San Diego and Oakland. He was "shell-shocked" when Arkansas beat Tulsa 49-7 last year.

"I looked it up," he said. "The last three years Arkansas has scored 160 points on Tulsa and Tulsa has scored 20 points. Arkansas' program is at the highest point it has ever been."

"They've won 30 of their last 34 — I don't count that bowl game loss — and have completely dominated everybody they've played since 1967," he said. "They've lost three to Texas and the other was to Stanford."

"What they're doing is not spectacular, it's the people they're doing it with," he said. Gibson said he was impressed by the quickness of Arkansas' defenders.

"They can make mistakes and cover up because of their quickness," he said. "They also have great pursuit, team tackling. They get as many people to the football as any team I've seen."

Gibson envies Arkansas' program.

"I love playing the University of Arkansas and wouldn't have it any other way," he said. "Everything I do is geared toward competing with one school, Arkansas."

Gibson says Arkansas is a 26-point favorite over Tulsa, which opened its season with a 19-10 loss to Kansas State.

"I've never been associated with a team that was that much of an underdog," Gibson said.

Can Tulsa make a respectable showing Saturday?

"You just don't make that kind of improvement in a year," Gibson said.

BRODIE SPEAKS

San Francisco 49er quarterback John Brodie appreciates the value of a strong defense. "The necessity of having a good defense is obvious," he says. "If you are going to win on offense, you have to have an exceptional performance and you can't maintain an offense at that level game after game. You can't afford to lose every day that your offense doesn't run properly."

Pirates Wrap It Up by Beating Cards

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
The corks popped, the champagne spilled and the superlatives flowed.

This was title-clinching time for Pittsburgh Pirates.

"On to the World Series," crooned big Willie Stargell, leading the celebration after the Pirates nailed down the National League's Eastern Division championship with a 5-1 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday night.

Stargell jerked open a champagne bottle and jettisoned a stream at teammates, sparking a crossfire in the euphoric clubhouse.

If Stargell and the rest of the Pirates were happy, they were also a little relieved to shake off the mounting pressure of pennant-chasing.

"This club had pressure on it," said Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh, "but it responded well. We went into a little slump and came out of it."

The "little" slump to which Murtaugh referred was a string of two losses Sunday and Tuesday as the Pirates failed to cinch the title while lugging the champagne around.

But everyone knew it would come sooner or later, right Mr. Stargell? "It's been a team effort," said the slugging outfielder in the time-worn baseball tradition.

"We couldn't have gone all the way without every man on this club."

While Pittsburgh locked up the East, the Western Division remained a hot item although in better perspective than in recent days. The front-running San Francisco Giants topped the Houston Astros 3-1 and moved their lead to 2½ games over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who lost 4-1 to the Cincinnati Reds.

The third-place Atlanta Braves, meanwhile, were mathematically eliminated after losing 7-3 to the San Diego Padres.

In the other National games, the Chicago Cubs bounced the New York Mets 4-1 and the Montreal Expos bested the Philadelphia Phillies 2-0.

The Eastern title was the second straight for the Pirates, who lost last year's National League playoffs to the Cincinnati Reds and watched the World Series on television.

"To a great extent, winning the title was a lot like last year," said Pittsburgh third baseman Richie Hebner. "Only this time, I hope we're around to go to the World Series."

Luke Walker and Dave Giusti combined for a six-hitter as the Pirates clinched the division title five days earlier than last season. Walker pitched the first six innings and yielded four singles while Giusti finished up for his 29th save.

The winning run, the Pirates' second tally in the fourth, was scored when Stargell opened with a walk and Robertson and Manny Sanguillen delivered singles.

Bobby Bonds knocked in two runs, including a tie-breaking homer in the fifth inning and Juan Marichal pitched a six-hitter in San Francisco's victory that gave the Giants a little breathing room over the Dodgers.

"It puts us closer to where we're going," said San Francisco Manager Charlie Fox. "We just broke out of our slump. We got some hits."

The Giants' slump has been something, all right. Prior to Wednesday night, they had lost 13 of 16 games and most of a once-commanding 8½-game lead over Los Angeles.

Gary Nolan pitched a five-hitter and George Foster smacked a two-run double as Cincinnati dealt a blow to the Dodgers' pennant hopes.

"We've been playing 10-11 games over the .500 mark all year, and now everyone expects us to win six out of seven games at the end," said a disconsolate Walt Alston, the Dodgers' manager. "I know it looks like we're not trying to win it—but believe me, we are."

San Diego snuffed Atlanta's flickering pennant hopes as Ed Acosta scattered eight hits and Clarence Gaston, Don Mason and Nate Colbert hit home runs.

Pitcher Bill Hands drilled a three-run double and spaced eight hits as Chicago beat New York and Bill Stoneman also allowed eight hits, pitching Montreal over Philadelphia.

Powell Slams Homers That Beat Yanks

By BERT ROSENTHAL

Associated Press Sports Writer
Boog Powell, the massive Baltimore Oriole first baseman, has been playing with two sore wrists and a sore hand, and he says it hurts to swing a bat. However, he has not been hurting himself recently ... only the New York Yankees.

The 6-4, 250-pound slugger slammed his 20th and 21st home runs of the season Wednesday night, each a two-run shot, as the Orioles pounded the Yankees 10-1 and clinched a tie for the American League's East Division title.

One more Baltimore victory in seven games or one more loss by second-place Detroit in six games will make the Orioles East Division champions for the third straight year and put them into the AL playoffs against Oakland's West Division winners. Both East teams are idle today, so the earliest pennant clinching could be Friday when the Orioles play the Indians in a two-night doubleheader at Cleveland, and the Tigers entertain the Yankees.

State Second in Small College Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Dakota State, which ran its regular season victory string to 37 with a 28-2 triumph over Montana State last Saturday, grabbed the No. 1 spot in the first Associated Press college division football poll of the year today.

The Bison, who lost half their 1970 team which finished 9-0-1 and third in the final AP poll, received eight first place votes and 275 points from a panel of sportswriters and broadcasters. Arkansas State, No. 1 and 11-0 last year under Coach Bennie Ellender, was bumped to No. 2 with five first place votes and 207 points. The Indians' 17 returning starters and new coach Bill Davidson barely squeezed past rebuilt Wichita State, which lost several players in an airplane crash last season.

Grambling, which is trying to run Coach Eddie Robinson's victories to 200, chalked up the 194th and 195th already and took the No. 3 spot in the poll after winding up 18th last year.

Montana, which lost to North Dakota State in the Camellia Bowl last season, is No. 4 and Eastern Michigan, which finished 19th last year, is No. 5.

Rounding out the Top 10 are Western Kentucky; Delaware, which is going for its fourth straight Lambert Cup; Eastern Kentucky; Louisiana Tech and Southern Illinois.

Eastern Michigan, Louisiana Tech, Southern Illinois and No. 20 Tennessee Tech each received one first place ballot.

In the lower half are Tennessee State, No. 5 last year; Akron; Tampa, No. 4 last year and a 28-20 victim of Louisiana Tech in its season opener; Trinity of Texas; Wofford; Central Connecticut State; Texas A&I; Southwest Louisiana and Morehead State.

NFL Probe Is Recessed for One Month

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A federal grand jury probe of the National Football League for possible antitrust violations was recessed Wednesday until next month to allow the jury to consider other matters.

The jury heard testimony Wednesday from John North, offensive backfield coach for the Detroit Lions, who said he was asked about the practice of blackballing, or blacklisting players.

North said he had never heard of any player being blacklisted and added, "Most of the guys who are let go are over the hill—they just don't have the natural ability any more."

Among earlier witnesses before the jury, which began its investigation last November, were former Cleveland Browns back Bernie Parrish and former Baltimore Colts and New York Jets defensive back John Sample, who have both charged they were forced out of the league by being placed on a player blacklist.

The grand jury's probe into player-owner relations in the NFL for possible illegal restraints of trade resumed Monday after a summer recess.

Nelson Shows Improvement, Says Broyles

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said Wednesday that quarterback Walter Nelson continued to show improvement. Nelson returned to practice this week after recovering from a fractured ankle received during the summer.

"He's still a little rusty, but he continues to work and improve," Broyles said of Nelson. The Razorbacks held their final practice in pads Wednesday before Saturday's game with Tulsa. The Porks worked on kicking and goal-line defense and offense.

Broyles said Tulsa presented a different defense than the Porks had faced this year. "We'll sure have to try and get better before Saturday," he said.

Bengals and Colts Lead Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League team statistics released today add further to the confusion created by the opening day's string of upsets.

In the American Conference, the Cincinnati Bengals, who won their opener, are No. 1 in total offense and the Baltimore Colts, who won their opener, are No. 1 in total defense.

In the National Conference, the San Francisco 49ers, who lost their opener, are No. 1 in total offense and the St. Louis Cardinals, who lost their opener, are No. 1 in total defense.

The Bengals lead the AFC with 532 yards gained overall while San Francisco is tops in the NFC with 372. Defensively, the Colts are first in the AFC with 118 yards allowed and the Cardinals are leaders in the NFC with 213 permitted.

San Francisco also is No. 1 in rushing in the NFC while Philadelphia is tops in passing yardage. Detroit is the leader against the rush and Minnesota has the best pass defense mark.

In the AFC, Baltimore is also tops in one offensive category, rushing. Buffalo is No. 1 in passing. Defensively, Cleveland is the best against the rush and the New York Jets the leaders against the pass.

Angels May Capitalize on Shift

ANAHEIM (AP) — The California Angels may capitalize on the shift of the Washington Senators to Dallas-Ft. Worth by hosting the 1972 presidential opener, replete with right-hander Dick Nixon throwing out the first ball.

The White House phoned Anaheim Wednesday with President Nixon suggesting a presidential opener for the Big A. Nixon also said that since Washington was now bereft of a major league franchise, he was adopting the Angels as his home team.

As a sometime resident of nearby San Clemente, the president additionally qualifies by birthright. He was born in Yorba Linda, another Orange County community.

"We have a lot of obstacles to overcome but we're going to make every effort to set things up for April," an Angel official said Wednesday.

An official announcement of next year's plans may be revealed this week in Washington, the White House said.

The American League schedule, already drawn up for the 1972 season, had the Cleveland Indians due in Washington for the opener. It is not known whether the Indians would be involved in the Anaheim game.

Robinson Golf Meet Underway

ROBINSON, Ill. (AP) — Deane Beman says his relative lack of size and strength may have helped him to become a better golfer.

"I'm not sure," mused the thoughtful, intelligent little guy, "but if I were bigger, stronger, hit the ball harder, maybe I wouldn't have worked so hard at it."

Beman, despite his 5-foot-7 frame and 145 pounds, was one of the favorites for the $20,000 first prize in the $100,000 Robinson Open Golf Tournament that got underway today.

Beman, a longtime standout as an amateur—winner of two U.S. and one British amateur titles—scored his third professional victory last week in the satellite Quad Cities Open.

It boosted his earnings to more than $54,000 for the season, marked the third consecutive year that he's won a tour title and stamped him as a strong contender in this 72-hole event on the short 6,585 yard Crawford County Country Club course.

Does the size of the course, relatively tiny by the usual tour standards, favor his game, make it his kind of course? "If it's got a hole in every green, it's my kind of course," said the undaunted Beman, who gave up a career as an insurance executive in Bethesda, Md. five years ago to turn pro at the age of 27.

He is recognized as one of the game's finest students, an excellent fairway woods player, good with short irons and an excellent putter. He's one of the very, very few Jack Nicklaus will go to for advice.

"The key to success in golf is hitting as few bad shots as possible," he said.

Other top candidates include defending champion George Knudson of Canada, George Archer and J.C. Snead, each a two-time champion this year, Bert Yancey, Tom Aaron and Chi Chi Rodriguez.

Lee Trevino missed Wednesday's program because of the illness of his mother, but was expected to make a late entry today. Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Billy Casper and Gary Player all are skipping for one reason or another.

Albatross Remains Favorite

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Albatross, the fleet Meadow Skipper colt, remained the favorite to win today's Little Brown Jug, although eliminated from pari-mutuel wagering.

Stanley Dancer's colt was favored so heavily to capture the third jewel of racing's Triple Crown that officials barred betting on him for fear it would create a minus pool, as happened when Albatross raced at Wolverine Raceway in Detroit last week.

Expected to be top choices on the tote board were Gamely, at 2-1 odds on the early line, in the first division, and Herve Filion's Nansemond, at 3-1, in the second division. Albatross, racing in the second division, was being quoted at 6-5.

The field of 14 has swelled the purse to $102,964 and forced two divisions. The first heat of the first division was scheduled to start at 1:50 p.m. EDT. The first four in each division return for a raceoff. If a different horse wins that, a fourth heat will decide the 1971 Jug champion.

Pacers, in order, in the first division were: 10-1 Airy Way, 4-1 H. T. Luca, 8-1 Local Time, 15-1 Keystone Journal, 4-1 El Patron, 5-1 Scottish Bret, 3-1 Winning Worth and Gamely.

In order of post positions in the second race were: 4-1 Springfield, 10-1 Dexter Hanover, 6-1 Ringleader, 10-1 Veri Special, 3-1 Nansemond, 8-1 Paulos Hanover and 6-5 Albatross.

Albatross has won 17 of 18 starts for $374,329 for a syndicate this season, including the first two legs of the Triple Crown, the Cane Futurity and the Messenger Stakes.

In a Grand Circuit harness meeting preliminary to the Jug Wednesday, Speedy Crown, winner of the 1971 Hambletonian Classic, captured the Old Oaken Bucket three-year-old trot.

$1.4 Million Not Enough, Alcindor Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lew Alcindor, who signed a reported $1.4 million contract with the Milwaukee Bucks three years ago, "is grossly underpaid in relation to his team," say two economists.

Roger G. Noll and Benjamin A. Okner of the Brookings Institution say the 7-foot-2 Alcindor would be underpaid "even if he earns $250,000 annually."

In testimony prepared for a Senate judiciary antitrust subcommittee the two economists suggested Congress permit the National and American basketball associations to merge for three years as an experiment.

As a price for relaxing antitrust laws, they said, the leagues should be required to adopt better gate sharing arrangements and a liberal player option system.

The two urged Congress to "undertake a complete evaluation of the present status of professional sports operations in the economy with the objective of establishing a fair and consistent policy for all of these enterprises."

They said the basketball merger. In its present form, would be disadvantageous to both fans and players.

"Our conclusion ... is that a merger is in the public interest, but only if certain restrictions are placed upon the operating rules of the merged entity to guarantee that the public interest is served," the 54-page report said.

They suggested balancing revenues for strong and weak teams by splitting gate receipts for every game—60 per cent to the home team and 40 per cent to the visitors—and sharing playoff revenues with non-playoff teams.

The report said a merger "will not succeed in making professional basketball games more competitive nor will it be able to salvage the few disastrous franchises."

Micky Lolich Loses Tough Ball Game

By LARRY ELDRIDGE
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Micky Lolich lost a tough ball game Wednesday night, but even in defeat the ace Detroit left-hander showed why he's a leading candidate for the Cy Young Award.

Lolich held the Boston Red Sox to three hits and had a 2-0 lead in the eighth inning before the Sox rallied for a 3-2 victory. The complete game was his 27th of the year and hiked his innings pitched total to 359—both American League highs this season—and despite the loss he's still the league's biggest winner with a 25-12 record.

"He's a helluva pitcher," Boston Manager Eddie Kasko said. "He's just a good, good pitcher. He's got good stuff. He's a battler, he knows what he wants to do and he does it."

Two singles and a fielder's choice loaded the bases for the Red Sox with nobody out in the eighth. One run scored on a force play, then Luis Aparicio worked the count to 3-and-2, fouled off five pitches, and finally lined a two-run double down the left field line to win the game.

"He was making good pitches," said Aparicio. "They were all so close I couldn't let them go by."

Lolich's strong second half of the season has propelled him into contention for the Cy Young Award, which looked at mid-season as though it had been all locked up by Oakland's Vida Blue.

"I'd pick Lolich," Aparicio said after beating the Detroit southpaw with his double. "He has more complete games, more wins, more innings pitched. I think he's tougher than the other contenders. He's tough all the time, and he's been strong all year."

Sluggish Reggie Smith took the opposite view.

"On the basis of the best over-all record, earned run average and strikeouts, I've got to go with Blue," he said.

Boston manager Eddie Kasko declined to make a choice among these two and another southpaw, Baltimore's Dave McNally, 20-5.

"It's a real tough award to pick this year," Kasko said. "I wouldn't even try."

Council of Garden Clubs Has Luncheon

Mrs. Lonnie Crow photo with Star Camera

The Hope Council of Garden Clubs held its annual fall luncheon Thursday, September 16, 1971, at 12:30 o'clock at the Town and Country Restaurant. The Gardenia Garden Club was hostess for the occasion with Mrs. Charles Carey serving as general chairman with Mrs. Royce Weisenberger and Mrs. Tom Watson serving on her committee.

Several beautiful fall arrangements were made by the individual clubs for the tables. Mrs. Royce Weisenberger made a dried arrangement for the speakers table which was later given as a door prize. Individual candles and flower decorated "Tips on Flower Shows and Awards" was the subject of the Hope Council of Garden Clubs fall luncheon at Town & Country last week. Mrs. H. T. Nesbitt, Magnolia, SW District Director of the Arkansas Federation of Gardens Clubs was guest speaker.

name cards were used on the tables as favors.

Mrs. J. H. Gunter, First Vice-President of the Council, welcomed everyone and Mrs. Roy Taylor gave the invocation. A salad plate was served to 43.

Mrs. Gunter introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. H. T. Nesbitt, the Southwest District Director from Magnolia, Arkansas. Mrs. Nesbitt gave an interesting and informative speech on "Tips for Flower Shows."

Mrs. Gunter thanked Mrs. Nesbitt for coming and presented her a lovely candle arrangement on behalf of the garden club's members.

Door prizes were donated by local merchants.

Guests included Mrs. Howard Jackson and Mrs. Clarence Geist of Hope, Mrs. Bill McKenzie, (Marge Waddle) of Pensacola, Florida, and Mrs. Terrel Dismukes, Magnolia.

Likes to Play Teams From Oklahoma

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — David Reavis enjoys playing football against teams from his home state.

The 6-4, 240-pound defensive tackle from Duncan, Okla., was thrilled with Arkansas' 31-10 victory over Oklahoma State last Saturday.

Now he's looking forward to Saturday's meeting at Fayetteville with the Tulsa Hurricane.

"It's fun playing teams from Oklahoma," Reavis said. "Oklahoma State has a good football team. They forced us to make some mistakes. We've got some correcting to do in order to get ready for Tulsa."

Most of the Razorback defensive problems against OSU were caused by Brent Blackman, the sophomore scrambler.

"He got out of the pocket a couple of times," Reavis said. "We wanted to contain him, but we opened up too much right in the middle of the rush lane."

A few breakdowns can be expected in the Arkansas defense. Reavis and defensive back Jack Morris are the only returning starters and both are in new positions.

"I played defense end last year," Reavis said. "The responsibilities there are a little different from tackle."

Many of the changes are involved in the pass rush. "The tackles can rush from inside or outside, depending on the defense," Reavis said. "They also have inside responsibility for the running game. The ends have to contain, then rush the passer."

In the opener against California, Reavis trapped the quarterback three times and batted down one pass. Against Oklahoma State, he improved his overall consistency, helping the Hogs limit the Cowboys to only 22 rushing yards in the second half.

"We made some mistakes because of our inexperience," Reavis said. "But we've got a lot of enthusiasm. Our defense puts a lot of people around the football. This helps us overcome some of our errors."

Tulsa, which gained a multitude of passing records several years back, can be expected to put the ball in the air.

"Our last two games have taught us the value of a strong pass rush," he said. "We really worked hard on rushing the passer while preparing for OSU. The hard work helped us, but we've got a lot of work ahead of us in order to get ready for Tulsa."

Kickoff is set for 2 p.m. in Razorback Stadium.

Mantle Would Take a Job as Manager

DALLAS (AP) — Mickey Mantle said today he would be interested in a job with the Dallas-Fort Worth franchise in the American League.

He told columnist Blackie Sherrod of the Dallas Times Herald he would consider a possible managerial post.

"Heck yes, I'd be interested in talking about it," Mantle said. "Of course, nobody's gotten in touch with me. But I'd be open to it if the deal's right."

There has been talk that Ted Williams, the current Washington manager, might move to a front office post.

Mantle, a former great for the New York Yankees, said, "They might make my whole salary back in one series if I brought a team into Yankee Stadium to play the Yankees."

"And how about if I was managing a team and took it to Detroit to play Billy Martin's team? That oughta draw quite a few at the gate. It ought to be good for something."

BIG BREAKFAST

Quarterback Maurie Daigman and flanker Barry Pearson of Northwestern U. both had breakfast with President Nixon during an off-season meeting of college leaders from around the country at the White House.

2nd Guessers Finally Got to Issel

By BILL WINTER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Colonels' Dan Issel says he didn't mind the second-guessers for a while, but after a year they got under his skin.

"They asked why I went to the American Basketball Association, and now I've got the answer," said the ABA stand-out after the Colonels handed the National Basketball Association's Baltimore Bullets a 111-85 thrashing Wednesday night.

The victory, forged before an ABA exhibition game record crowd of 13,821, was the first ever for an ABA team over an NBA squad, and Issel was delighted.

"They the Bullets represent the NBA," he said after the Colonels' win, "and that's been pushed down my throat for a year now. Now maybe that's over."

The former University of Kentucky All-American had 24 points to pace all scorers as the Colonels overcame an early 6-0 deficit and pulled away from the Bullets.

Both teams substituted liberally, testing rookie prospects in advance of the regular season.

Rookie Stan Love of Oregon paced the Bullets with 19 points, while 7-foot-2 Artis Gilmore, making his first start for Kentucky, scored 16 points and had the same number of rebounds.

Baltimore was hampered by the absence of guard Earl Monroe and forward Gus Johnson, both injured. Darel Carrier, a holdout until Wednesday, didn't play for Kentucky.

The loss was a special disappointment for the Bullets' Wesley Unseld, who starred at the University of Louisville. Unseld managed only seven points and eight rebounds, but still impressed Issel.

"He's like a block of concrete," Issel said of the bulky 6-foot-8 Unseld. "He's strong as a bull."

State Coach Disappointed With Practice

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State Coach Bill Davidson said he was disappointed with Wednesday afternoon's practice session. He termed the workout of the Indians' "worse of the fall."

"We just didn't do anything right," Davidson said. "We busted assignments, we dropped the ball and our kicking and passing games were not very good. We certainly didn't get anything accomplished on a team basis."

Davidson said if the team did not show improvement before Saturday's game with Northeast Louisiana, "we're going to be in a lot of trouble."

Davidson said sophomore Andy Haney probably would start at center Saturday in place of injured Doug Lowrey.

MANTLE DRIVES

Mickey Mantle drove in 40 runs in World Series competition to set the career RBI record for the fall classic.

BEARING DOWN

Rookie forward Barry Nelson of the Milwaukee Bucks shouldn't be intimidated by any of the NBA's burly forwards. The 6-10, 230-pound Duquesne grad once wrestled a 700-pound bear at a sports show — and won on points.

NASCAR REVISION

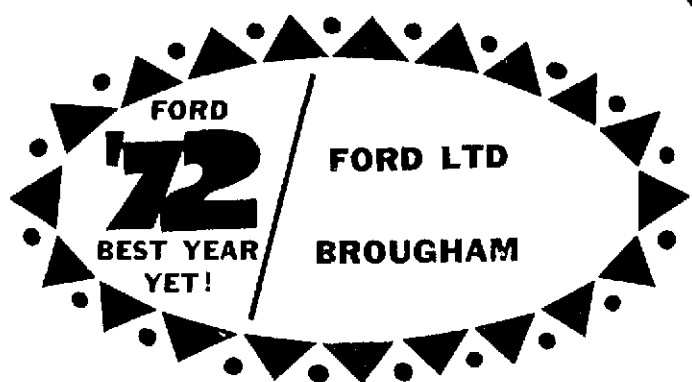

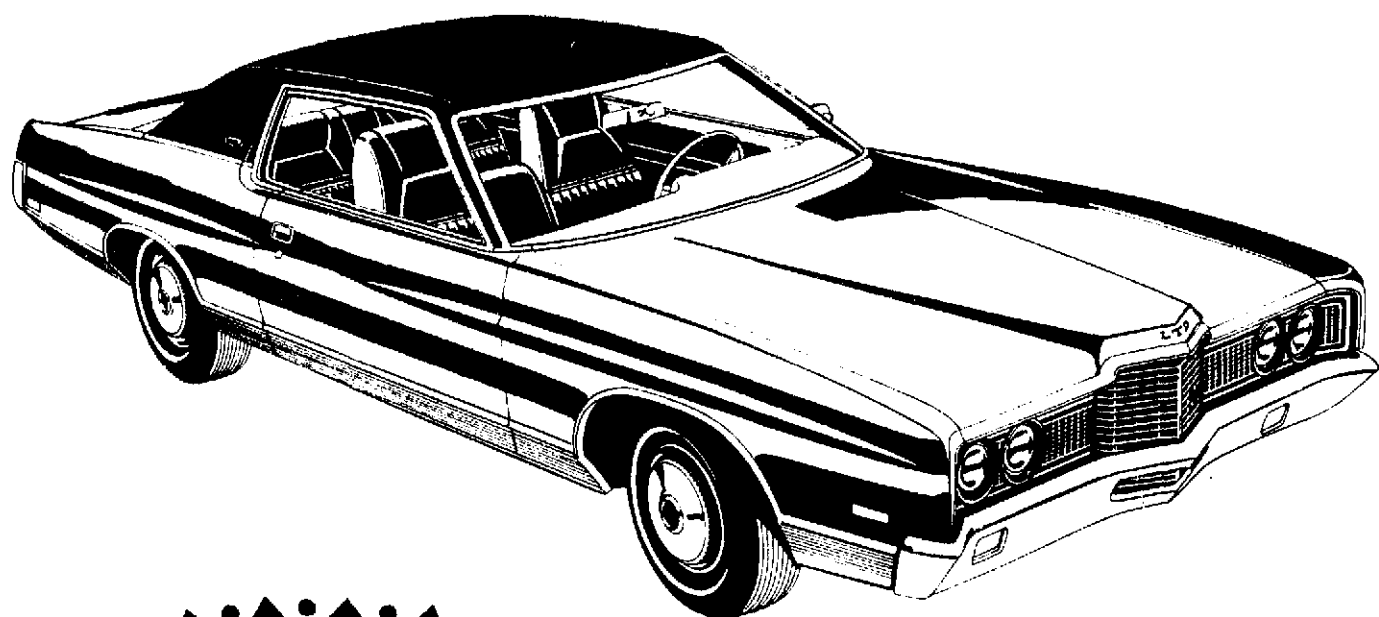

The National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing (NASCAR) has discontinued the use of cardboard restrictive plates in its Grand National division. However, the limit on the use of base plates will be maintained to ensure the safety of the participants.

U.S. Court Wants Ban on DDT Use

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal court has told the Environmental Protection Agency to consider an immediate ban on DDT, because the long-lasting pesticide threatens man's environment.

The U.S. Court of Appeals in a brief order issued Wednesday, gave EPA until Nov. 1 to explain its reasons for either agreeing or refusing to support federal registration of DDT.

The court order was a result of the situation EPA faced earlier this year but with one major difference—a scientific panel has now suggested a possible legal basis for the immediate ban which the agency earlier refused.

The order followed an appeal by the Environmental Defense Fund, a citizens' group seeking an immediate and virtually complete ban on further use of DDT. The appeal came after EPA Administrator William D. Ruckelshaus announced last March that the agency found no evidence of "an imminent hazard to the public," the legal basis for banning use of the pesticide.

The court's action Wednesday came after it disclosed a report by a scientific panel commissioned by EPA to study the effects of DDT.

The panel quoted an EPA policy statement defining "imminent hazard" to include not only direct danger to public health, but also "significant injury or potential injury to plants or animals alone."

It concluded that the present level of DDT use "does not present an imminent hazard to human health in terms of individual bodily functions and safety."

But it added that DDT and its products "present a substantial threat to the quality of the human environment" and are "an imminent hazard to human welfare in terms of maintaining healthy desirable flora and fauna in man's environment."

In the light of that report, the court sent the case back to EPA with instructions to reconsider its earlier rejection of an immediate ban, and to explain its new decision by Nov. 1.

Condition of Cities Is Worse

By G.C. THELEN Jr.
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The condition of American cities has generally worsened in the three years since the Kerner Commission report indicting white racism, a task force of the National Urban Coalition said today.

"Housing is still the national scandal it was then," according to the report of the coalition's Commission on the Cities in the 70s.

"Schools are more tedious and turbulent," the commission's indictment continued. "The rates of crime and unemployment and disease and heroin addiction are higher."

"Welfare rolls are larger. And, with few exceptions, the relations between minority communities and the police are just as hostile," it said.

The document, titled "The State of the Cities," was an assessment of progress since the 1968 report of the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders headed by Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois.

Co-chairmen of the coalition task force were Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma and New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, each a possible Democratic contender for the presidential nomination next year.

If poor Negroes and Mexican-Americans continue to be isolated in ghettos, the report said, "most cities by 1990 will be predominantly black and brown, and totally bankrupt."

The commission said that while it found the people of inner city Atlanta, Detroit, Los Angeles, Phoenix, Newark and El Paso, Tex., even angrier, perhaps, than four years ago, "the state of mind on the streets is a cause for some hope."

"The most disturbing point most of those we spoke with made was that they had no faith at all in 'the system' the government and the private wielders of power—as a protector or a provider," the task force said.

The report contained no remedial recommendations save for an exhortation "the system" respond better to the plight of minorities locked in city ghettos.

CHINA PRESENTS

make them less formal than heretofore might hold water under normal circumstances. For several years after formation of the peoples republic in 1949 May Day celebrations were marked by similar parades which later were discontinued.

What lends mystery to the Anniversary Day decision is in abruptness. Visible preparations were vigorously underway up to the middle of last week, then were halted without explanation.

Intelligence sources here have found no evidence of any sizeable Chinese troop movements, a fact which suggests that the crisis—if there is one—is internal.

There are a number of possible explanations for the Chinese moves. One of them is that Mao has called a full-dress meeting of the party central committee to discuss some important question of policy. This would explain the fact that civilian and military passenger planes were pulled out of service last week. Just before the start of the 1966-69 Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution, Mao dispatched planes to bring widely scattered central committee members to Peking for a meeting which started President Liu Shao-chi on the road to disgrace and ruin.

If the central committee already has met and carried out a drastic shakeup in the party lineup, this would explain both the decision to substitute informal celebrations on Oct. 1 for the usual parade and the move to put the army in some state of alert for possible trouble.

The parades have been staged for 21 years with Mao and the party hierarchy ranged on either side of him in the reviewing stand. The presence or absence of party leaders, and their order of precedence, have given a generally accurate indication of their standing.

Though it cannot be entirely discounted, there is little inclination here to believe that Mao is dead or gravely ill. The Chinese are nearly as good as the Nixon administration at keeping secrets but a major development of this sort would be difficult to suppress. Too many people, both inside and outside China, would be vitally affected for it to remain hidden for long.

noted, "He didn't have tonight what he had that night, but he's a tremendous competitor."

Bob Robertson, who stroked two hits off Gibson and like Stargell drove in a run, echoed the sentiment, declaring "It's always great to get it off someone like Gibson. He's probably the best pitcher in the league."

"I wanted this game so bad I could taste it," said Robertson, who quickly joined his teammates in a running battle with Pirates coaches and manager Danny Murtaugh, champagne bottles serving as spray guns.

None escaped the buckets of water and shower of beverages, including sports writers and sportscasters, Pirates general manager Joe Brown and club board chairman John W. Galbreath.

Pitcher Steve Blass, who has a 17-1 record and the club's best ERA among starters at .287, started the celebration by popping into the tub holding the champagne bottles.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset McGovern Charges Incident in Vietnam Was Rigged Purposely

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern charged today that rioters who hurled firebombs and stones at him in Saigon last week were hired by the government of South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

McGovern's charge was contained in a statement prepared for a Washington news conference to discuss his 10-day trip to Paris, Saigon and Tokyo.

The South Dakota senator, the only declared candidate for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination, also said the U.S. Army in South Vietnam is afflicted by a mounting tide of boredom, disgust, antiwar sentiment, racism and drug addiction.

"As I walked among our troops, I saw more peace signs flashed than I experienced five days later on my trip to Hawaii, or for that matter at Berkeley or the University of Wisconsin."

"Indeed," McGovern said, "we could not find one single GI in all of South Vietnam who did not regard our presence there as anything other than disastrous."

He pledged that if elected president he would withdraw U.S. troops "with the same urgency that one would bring—and for the same reasons—to rescuing men trapped in a burning building."

McGovern noted that in Saigon he spoke with the U.S. officials, South Vietnamese officials and opposition leaders "until I was interrupted by rioters hired by the government."

He called Vietnam a land where, despite 50,000 U.S. dead and 10 years of defoliation and bombing, "no road is safe at night and less than five percent of the villages are secure," a land "whose government sends its police to hurl firebombs and stones at a visiting United States senator who has dared to speak to the opposition."

DODGE LEADS WITH ITS STRENGTH.

Polara/Monaco—the all-new look of '72 at familiar '71 prices.

ALL-NEW STYLING... SAME OLD PRICES.
In a year when most new cars look a lot like last year's, Dodge Polara and Monaco do not. They've been restyled for '72. The emphasis in the design of these new cars has been on strength, solidity, and silence. Their strong, expressive styling achieves an attitude of distinction with clean, fresh lines. And while the styling is all new, the prices of the '72 Polara and Monaco, and all Dodges, will remain the same as those offered on comparably equipped 1971 models. Prices may never be lower.

1972 DODGE MONACO Designed for the man who wants excellence without extravagance. The restyled 1972 Monaco has a look that sets it apart from the rest of the medium-priced field... like smooth lines, hidden headlights, and a streak of protective side moulding. It's equipped with the features you'd expect in a car as distinguished as Dodge Monaco. The new 360 two-barrel V8 engine, precise power steering, power front disc brakes, and Dodge's famous, smooth TorqueFlite automatic transmission are all standard.

1972 DODGE POLARA Dodge builds the Polara with a little extra size and riding comfort, and at the lowest possible price. You get such easygoing features as power steering, TorqueFlite automatic transmission, and a powerful, yet economical, 318 V8 engine standard.

DART DEMON COUPE Our lowest priced Dart. It just goes to prove an economy car doesn't have to be a little car. Dart Demon seats five adults comfortably. Dart Demon. It's very big about saving you money.

DODGE CHARGER The Dodge idea of what a family-sized sports car should be. It's large enough to seat six, and its sporty styling adds a new dimension to the old-fashioned family cars. Check it out today!

DODGE CORONET The convenience car. The perfect idea for a family car because Coronet is designed solely to be a four-door family sedan. Full-sized room for six people, and styling that you'll be proud of.

Mrs. Nixon Pulling for Rose Kennedy

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — First Lady Pat Nixon is pushing for a woman on the Supreme Court; she secretly entertained Rose Kennedy, and the only fan letter she ever wrote went to former baseball pitcher Bobo Newsom. That's some of the information gathered during a relaxed plane ride Wednesday with the President's wife on the way home from christening the nuclear-powered guided missile frigate U.S.S. California in Newport, Va.

"Don't you worry," Mrs. Nixon said when asked about the possibility the President may nominate a woman to the nation's highest court, "I'm talking it up."

President Nixon has been getting appeals from several quarters to name a woman to fill Hugo Black's seat.

In case, "they don't get one this time," Mrs. Nixon said her husband has named three women to district court judgeships, "They're grooming them," she said.

They'll be moved up to other courts."

Mrs. Nixon revealed she has been getting a lot of approving letters for her recent television appearance "Visit with the First Lady" on ABC, from people "in all walks of life."

"They like anything about the White House," she said. Many letters suggested she and her daughters do another show at Christmas, she said.

Mrs. Nixon said her two married daughters have "gotten to be expert cooks." Tricia, whom she said once took four hours to prepare dinner for her husband, "has graduated from one cookbook to another" and may even take on some Harvard courses now that she's doing so well in the kitchen. Her husband, Edward Cox, is attending Harvard Law School.

Mrs. Nixon said she has supported the Washington Senators, who announced they are leaving the Capital, for years. "I got out there and yelled my heart out," she said.

"The only fan letter I ever wrote" went to Bobo Newsom, former major league pitcher. "One day I was there and he was thrown out of the game and I didn't think it was fair. So I wrote him a letter."

Mrs. Nixon revealed she had

Thursday, September 23, 1971
a private visit and tea with Mrs. Rose Kennedy, mother of the late President John F. Kennedy, at the White House May 27 to show her the portraits of President Kennedy and his former wife, Jacqueline. "She didn't tell me what she thought of them," she said.

Mrs. Nixon said she does a lot of unannounced things, like the tea with Rose Kennedy because she doesn't want to exploit people.

THOUGHTS
There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free, there is neither male nor female; for you are all one in Christ Jesus.—Galatians 3:28.

All men are by nature equal, made, all, of the same earth by the same Creator, and however we deceive ourselves, as dear to God is the poor peasant as the mighty prince.—Plato, philosopher of ancient Greece.

And they discussed it among themselves, saying, "We brought no bread." But Jesus, aware of this, said, "O men of little faith, why do you discuss among yourselves the fact that you have no bread?"—Matthew 16:7, 8.

Cheaper in the long run.

Gas will never cost you much. (You'll get up to 27 miles to the gallon.) And the amount of oil you use is like a drop in the bucket. (It only takes 2.7 quarts and almost never needs more between changes.) And the engine is air-cooled, so you don't have to spend a red cent for anti-freeze or rust inhibitors. And you get more than your money's worth out of a set of tires. But don't think buying a new Volkswagen is just another get-rich-quick scheme. You have to wait until the second set of tires wear out.

Motorcycle Missionaries Plan Tour

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) — Two young servicemen will launch a 9,000-mile motorcycle tour of the United States Thursday in an effort to convince the nation's youth that today's military really is changing.

The tour was the idea of Spec. 4 Douglas Reitmeyer who says he once considered fleeing to Canada to escape the draft. He said he finally enlisted with the idea that "If I didn't like it I'd go AWOL."

Reitmeyer and Spec. 4 Michael Speegle, both 22, start their tour in New York Thursday.

They were in Hampton Tuesday after a briefing by officials at the Army Recruiting Command, but they are adamant on one point—they may be the Army's motorcycle missionaries, but they are not motorized recruiters.

"I told them that if they won't let me say exactly what I want to say then I don't want to go on the trip," Reitmeyer said, explaining he doesn't want the young people he meets to associate him with recruiting.

"I'm a civilian at heart and I want to approach these kids on that level," he said.

Reitmeyer's view of the Army changed drastically a month after he enlisted. That was last year when the modern volunteer army program was initiated.

Conditions in the service changed so radically, he said, he changed his mind about going AWOL and decided the Army could not only be tolerated, it could be enjoyed.

The changes in Army life, he said, "came so quickly that they kind of stunned everybody."

Instead of standing five formations a day, he was standing four. Then only one. And weekend passes were extended to allow more travel, two-man rooms became the rule rather than the exception and "the food was getting fantastic."

About that time he began to hatch the motorcycle missionary idea, but the clincher came last Christmas when he suggested to his company commander at Redstone Arsenal,

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Calcium Needed For Elderly People

Dear Dr. Lamb—Should middle-aged and elderly people drink milk every day? If so, how much? Should or should they not have calcium? How about drinking ground egg shells for calcium? Is that safe or healthful? It seems to me that eating should be a relaxed and pleasurable thing and not something to worry about.

Dear Reader—The most frequent deficiency in restricted diets is calcium. The incidence of bone degeneration with age is markedly increased in people on diets poor in calcium. Yes, I strongly support drinking low-fat milk (preferably the one per cent fat variety but if not available use two per cent) or fortified skim milk and using other low-fat dairy products that provide calcium.

An excellent product is uncreamed cottage cheese and for cooking purposes nonfat dry milk powder (1 1/2 cup of powder makes one quart of milk). You should try to get as much calcium each day as found in one quart of milk, either by drinking milk or using milk products in your cooking or by using uncreamed cottage cheese (a pound is equivalent to one pint of milk of calcium content). A seven-ounce can of pink salmon contains about as much calcium as found in a third of a quart of milk.

Egg shells certainly contain calcium but I am unacquainted with "drinking" or eating them.

I would like to stress again that there is nothing wrong with dairy products unless you can't tolerate lactose sugar. The only limitation is the fat content and there are low-fat dairy products that circumvent that problem. From a standpoint of limiting saturated fat, some artificial products are far worse offenders—specifically artificial cream or coffee whiteners, and some artificial milk and artificial whipped cream made with coconut oil.

Dear Dr. Lamb I have a problem to me very serious. I am 70 and in apparent good

British on Guard in Key Ireland Posts

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — British troops took over guard duty at key police stations in Northern Ireland today in a switch of policy dictated by hit-and-run raiders of the Irish Republican Army.

The soldiers moved in only a week after handing over sentry duties to the Royal Ulster Constabulary, the police force that supports the troops in battling the IRA's guerrilla campaign.

Since then several police posts have come under attack, including one in central Belfast that was raked by machine gun fire and damaged by a gelignite bomb.

Ulster constables complained that they had been issued inadequate shotguns to defend police stations against guerrillas using automatic weapons.

Army commander Sir Harry Tuzo and chief constable Graham Shillington held an urgent meeting and announced early today that soldiers have again replaced police at stations "selected on security grounds."

There was no letup in the violence that has taken 108 lives in the past two years.

Six-year-old Linda Parker, one of two girls shot outside a candy store by gunmen firing from a speeding car Wednesday night, was reported "still serious" in a Belfast hospital.

The other girl, aged 13, was less seriously wounded. Police said the gunmen appeared to have been aiming at a military jeep and hit the girls by mistake.

A bomb blast at the Michelin tire depot on Limestone Road injured two passersby. Another explosion wrecked a telephone exchange.

Proper Pasture Management Helps Clover

Proper pasture management plus favorable weather will help in obtaining volunteer stands of white clover and winter annuals on cool and warm-season permanent pastures.

Winter annuals, such as ryegrass, singletary peas, vetch, and crimson, Ball, and arrowleaf clover, will come back from volunteer stands providing they were permitted to seed earlier in the year and not smothered out during fall germination.

To permit reseeding, says Calvin J. Caldwell, county Extension agent, livestock should have been removed from the fields or grazing pressure reduced last spring as the winter annuals were beginning to make seed heads. In most years, white clover will produce enough viable seed to help thicken the stand in the fall under favorable conditions.

Where winter annuals and white clover are in a permanent sod, any excess growth that might smother the seedlings should be removed in late September by grazing or mowing. Be sure to also add phosphate and potash according to soil test in the fall. This is especially important for legumes.

Volunteer stands in permanent sods will furnish very little, if any, grazing in the fall unless early moisture conditions are favorable. Since manure droppings need to be scattered at least once or twice a year, it may be a good time to do this in September on a closely grazed sod. This will also help work some of the seed into the soil to provide improved germination and better seedling survival.

Winter annuals or white clover may also be introduced into permanent sods by overseeding in late September and early October. Here again, any excess growth must be removed by grazing or mowing before seeding. It is also important to scarify the soil to provide better seed contact with the soil.

Small grain seeded on warm-season permanent sod may be disked into the soil to a depth of approximately 2 inches. Setting the disk at a slight angle will help prevent excess damage to the sod. Lime, phosphate, and - or potash should be applied according to soil needs.

Sir Edgar opposed the 1965 decision by Prime Minister Ian Smith to declare the colony—now called Rhodesia—-independent of British rule.

He said that during his own leadership of the white minority regime he had tried to achieve a non racial society.

Born in Berlin, where his father was chancellor at the British Embassy, Sir Edgar was educated at Oxford and went to Southern Rhodesia as a farmer. He began his political career in 1939 when he was elected to the legislative assembly.

The cause of his death was not disclosed.

Calendar Of Events

The Union Gospel Singers of Little Rock will conduct a concert of inspirational singing Sunday, September 26 at Bethel A.M.E. Church

This program, which is sponsored by the division of church extension of the Bethel church administration, promises to be one of the best ever to come to Hope.

Accompanied by Mrs. Audrey Smith, one of Little Rock's most talented pianists, the ensemble reflects unusual talent which is responsible for the group being scarcely available. Throughout Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi, and Oklahoma, the Union Singers are a high favorite and much sought after group.

Aside from the unique musical and inspirational quality common to this talented group, one of the leading vocalists is a Hope girl, Mrs. Joan Ryan Hawkins, now a prominent public school instructor in the North Little Rock system, a graduate of the Yerger High school. Throughout her college career, Mrs. Hawkins sang in the soprano section of the college's concert choir at Shorter College and A. M. & N. College.

The concert is scheduled to get under way at 7:30 p.m. and Bethel's music department invites the public to be present.

this court to advise you that the court in closed session and upon secret ballot has found you not guilty of all specifications and charges," Proctor told Medina, who stood at attention.

The trim, black-haired Medina appeared stunned by the verdict. He saluted again and then looked toward his sobbing wife Barbara, who had sat on the front row each day since the trial began Aug. 15.

"I am extremely happy," Medina said later, his usually expressionless face broken by a wide grin. "I have always had complete faith in the military and the military justice system. I always felt I'd be found innocent."

Medina, who joined the National Guard when he was 15 and has been an officer for seven years, said he still plans to resign from the army.

Asked if he felt any bitterness toward the Army, he replied, "None whatsoever."

During the trial, Medina testified in his own behalf and maintained that he was not aware of atrocities at the time of the massacre.

"Reflecting back now, I know I lost control because there were noncombatants killed by my company," he testified. "If I had been aware of it that day, I would have stopped it."

The jury also said it was convinced Medina was not aware of civilian deaths.

Col. Robert E. Nelson, one of the jurors, said the verdict does not signify that the jury believes no war crimes were committed at My Lai.

"I am certain war crimes were committed," he said. "In the case of Capt. Medina, the jury was convinced he did not commit war crimes."

Nelson, 40, of Eatonton, Ga., said he personally was convinced that Medina had no knowledge of the activities of Calley and the other soldiers at My Lai.

"We all began this trial with the assumption that Capt. Medina was innocent. We were waiting for the government to convince us otherwise. It did not do so."

Proctor, 47, of Atlanta, issued a written statement to newsmen in which he said the jury had conscientiously striven to seek out the truth. "We feel that justice has been done. We the jury have done our job to the best of our ability."

The other jurors were Lt. Col. Bobby G. Berryhill, 39, of Cochran, Ga.; Maj. Dudley J. Budrich, 37, of Chicago and Lt. Col. Clarence Cooke, 44 of Enterprise, Ala.

All the jurors had served in combat in either Vietnam, Korea or World War II.
